Q3 Kernel Module

(I)   Read Me

It is a Linux kernel module that allows you to read information about a specific process running on the system. It takes the process ID (PID) as an input and prints the PID, user ID, group ID, and command path of the process to the kernel log. This module can be useful for debugging or for understanding more about how processes work in the kernel.